

About UNESCO-UNEVOC

TVETipedia has been initiated by UNESCO-UNEVOC, UNESCO's specialised Centre for TVET and the hub of the UNEVOC Network, a network of more than 270 TVET institutions in more than 165 UNESCO Member States.

UNESCO-UNEVOC Online Services

UNESCO-UNEVOC offers a number of online services on its website:

- Read the latest TVET news and find out about upcoming TVET-related events
- Subscribe to the UNESCO-UNEVOC e-Forum, an e-mail list of TVET experts from around the world who share information and knowledge about different aspects of TVET, and search or browse the online archives
- Subscribe to our Spanish-Portuguese e-mail forum, the "foro hispano-luso" (messages are in Spanish/Portuguese)
- Subscribe to the UNESCO-UNEVOC Bulletin
- Access and download relevant TVET publications
- Find the contact details of UNEVOC Network members

www.unesco.org/unevoc

Contact the TVETipedia team

www.TVETipedia.org
tvetipedia@unevoc.unesco.org

UNESCO-UNEVOC International Centre
UN Campus
Hermann-Ehlers-Str. 10
53113 Bonn
Germany

Phone: +49 228 8150-100
Fax: +49 228 8150-199

www.unesco.org/unevoc

TVETipedia

An online community platform to share relevant and high-quality TVET information

"For a world without boundaries where technologies support education to build inclusive knowledge societies"

(UNESCO vision for ICT in Education, 2008)

www.TVETipedia.org

Artist: Edouard Michelet, Haiti

What is TVETipedia?

TVETipedia is an online portal for the exchange of relevant and high quality information and knowledge about technical and vocational education and training (TVET) around the world.

TVETipedia aims to:

- promote further TVET development and innovation
- enable TVET policy makers, researchers and practitioners around the world to share information and experiences

TVETipedia enables the sharing of TVET resources, including:

- TVET policy documents;
- Curricula;
- Learning materials;
- Success stories;
- Best practice and lessons learnt
- Collaboration on projects

How does TVETipedia work?

TVETipedia is organized in wiki articles, and registered users can add and edit text, links to other websites and upload documents relevant to TVET. Wiki technology is very easy to use, and no prior knowledge of editing systems is necessary. This makes it easy for users around the world to take part and contribute.

Articles are available on a read-only basis to all internet users, but it is easy to create user accounts and start adding and editing information. Anyone who wishes to participate can contribute information. UNESCO-UNEVOC will monitor the content to ensure relevance and high quality of the information published.

Languages

The English launch of TVETipedia is the first step in the development of what we hope will be a truly global, open and inclusive multi-lingual online space for TVET. You are free to contribute content in languages other than English.

See what is happening in the TVET world and share your own experiences on TVETipedia!

www.TVETipedia.org

Join the TVETipedia Community!

Anyone working in technical and vocational education and training (TVET), or with an interest in TVET, is warmly invited and encouraged to take part in the project and share information. Please visit www.tvetipedia.org and join the TVETipedia community now!

Are you a member of the UNESCO-UNEVOC e-Forum? Use your existing account to edit TVETipedia content.